Propose Detention Home at Infirmary

Group Offers 2 Plans

County Must Find Quarters

Richland county, which will be without a juvenile detention home after Dec. 31, heard proposals today that temporary quarters be set up at the county infirmary, or a house be purchased or rented for the purpose.

The proposals were offered by George Smith, chairman, speaking for the Salvation Army advisory board. Meeting with Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer on the problem were Smith, Charles Hoffman and Clyde Smaltz, board members, and Jane Williams, executive secretary of the Community Chest.

The group agreed to confer with the county commissioners on the proposal. That meeting can not be held until next week since the commissioners are attending a state convention in Columbus.

Nearly six months ago, the Salvation Army board informed the commissioners and Judge Cramer that the rooms at the Salvation Army, used "temporarily" as a county detention home for the past 30 years, would have to be moved elsewhere after Jan. 1.

At today's meeting, the group agreed the Salvation Army "as such has no more responsibility than any other organization to operate a juvenile detention home other than they accepted the responsibility for the past 30 years," Judge Cramer said.

ASKS 2 HOMES

The judge said his idea was to obtain rooms in homes—with girls being put in one home and boys in another. He said that plan would be more advantageous than the County home, since it is distant from the city.

He said the State Welfare department might not approve use of the County home. Judge Cramer said he doubted that the facilities would pass an inspection by that department.

Board members placed the blame for the present situation squarely on the Richland county commissioners. They pointed out that for years they have asked the commissioners to set up a juvenile detention home, but they have been "put off."

Board members said they are insisting now that something be accomplished by the commissioners or the same situation might continue for another 30 years.

CITES LACK OF ACTION

Smith pointed out that the detention home at the citadel was set up 30 years ago by then Juvenile Judge W. J. Bissman on a "temporary" basis. That was on the basis that the county commissioners put up a permanent detention home, which was never done, he said.

In offering the county home suggestion, Smith said that some of the children sent there could be trusted and could use the facilities of the farm at the home. At the Salvation Army rooms they are cooped up, since there are no facilities for recreation.

Regarding the use of a private home, Smith said that a man and his wife could be hired as supervisors, and that only two rooms would require bars.

The children who behave could use the other facilities of the house, he said.

Judge Cramer said he wasn't going to place any children 14 or under in either of the jails, although that might be the only place after Dec 31.

"I'm simply not going to put any youngster whose trouble is only an emotional conflict in one of the jails."

He said he might have to put some of the older ones in jail, but such a step "is going back 50 years."

Mercury Dives To 17 Above

Mansfield was in the grip of the season's first cold wave today as the mercury dropped to a new low of 17 degrees.

No relief was in sight, according to weathermen, who predicted even lower temperatures for tomorrow. Cold air moving from the Canadian Northwest, now chilling the Dakotas and Montana, is headed for the central states, the weather bureau reported.

Light snow is forecast for tonight and tomorrow in the Mansfield area. The snow was due to arrive today, but the high pressure area and the extreme cold across the northern half of the country delayed arrival of the storm.

Columbus, Canton, and Toledo also experienced 17-degree temperatures last night, while in Zanesville the mercury fell to 14 degrees.

The current cold spell is moving in from the northern plains where below-zero readings were recorded last night. Lows of 25 to 30 below were forecast for the Dakotas and Minnesota tonight.

Early morning lows today included 15 below at Havre, Mont., 13 below at Glasgow, Mont., and 10 below at Williston, N. D.

According to the U. S. Weather bureau, records kept through the year show that the coldest 91-day period of the year begins tomorrow and ends March 10, although the calendar winter does not begin until Dec. 21.

Plants Cut Employment

Cleveland Firms Lay Off 1,000

CLEVELAND — (AP) — More than 1,000 workers in the greater Cleveland area have been notified of layoffs.

The Apex Electrical Manufacturing company dropped 300 last week and 400 more will follow on Jan. 1. President Clarence G. Frantz said the action was caused by a "government curb on installment buying."

Jack & Heintz Precision Industries, incorporation, reported there would be a partial shutdown, which for two weeks starting Dec. 12 would release 200 workers in the fractional horsepower electric motor division. This reduction was ascribed to inventory, slack year-end activities and an adequate stock on hand.

The National Carbon company, incorporation, recently laid off about 100 in its Cleveland plant, with further reductions possible.

Addressograph - Multigraph corporation said some 75 to 80 office employes were laid off to meet a "leaving of backlog."

The Foote-Burt company reported about 50 had been cut from a staff of 350 within the last two months because of "lack of orders."

France Faces Record Budget

PARIS, — (UP) — Premier Henri Qucuille planned to hand to the National Assembly today a record-breaking 1949 budget calling for the expenditure of some $5,000,000,000.

His cabinet approved it last night shortly after David Bruce, chief of the Economic Cooperation Administration mission to France, warned that France must make "fresh and still more important efforts" to carry her share of the European recovery load.

Bruce said some Frenchmen thought France's contribution to European recovery "not altogether satisfactory" and noted congress would meet soon to study the question of continued American support for French recovery.

MOSCOW — (AP) — Prime Minister Stalin is back in Moscow after his annual vacation. The news came in an announcement yesterday that Stalin had received Premier Anton Zapotocky of Czechoslovakia.

Reds Cut Chinese Lifeline

Slice Vital Rail Supply

NANKING—(UP)—A flying squad of communist raiders from the north has slipped through Nationalist lines and cut the railway supplying Nationalist forces battling on the approaches to Nanking, government sources admitted today.

The Central News agency reported the line was cut early this morning at a point 30 miles north of Pukow, which is across the Yangtze river from Nanking.

Government engineers are repairing the damage and traffic may be resumed tomorrow, the agency said.

The cut in the rail line has halted, at least temporarily, the flow of reinforcements and supplies to government armies battling the communists at Pengpu, 130 miles north of Nanking.

Central earlier reported that the communist column, estimated at 5,000 men, slipped through Nationalist lines along a route some 70 miles east of Pengpu.

Government planes attacked the communist column at Hoshaochiao, 60 miles east of Pengpu, Central said. The report claimed that half the communist force was killed and wounded by bombs.

REPORT 2 BATTLES

A Nationalist military spokesman said the main fighting in the Suhsien-Suchow area now had developed into two battles and that a decision might result "in the next week or two."

One of the battles was reported going on in the Suangtuitsi area and the other in the Yungcheng-Hsiaohsien area.

The Central News agency said 50,000 Nationalist reinforcements rushed northward from Nanking to Pengpu had recaptured two villages from a communist force of 30,000 men south of the Huai river.

The villages are Hsinmachiao and Changpaying, about 20 miles north and northwest of Pengpu.

Finish Koch Probe Today

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The Ferguson senate committee expected to wind up its secret study of the "Ilse Koch case" today. Open hearings probably will not be held.

Called for further questioning behind closed doors were the war crimes reviewing officers who cut to four years the life sentence of Frau Ilse Koch, who allegedly made lampshades of skins of human victims of the Nazis' dread Buchenwald camp.

Indications are that the committee will prepare a report criticizing the procedure under which reviewing boards can commute such sentences—apparently without any exercise of authority by top army authorities to restore original penalties.

Summoned to return today were Lieut. Col. Clio Straight, former deputy judge advocate in the European theater, who first handled the Koch case review, and Col. J. L. Harbaugh jr., Straight's superior officer, who also signed the commutation.

WINTER CLOSES IN—Cut off from shore by ice which formed on North lake in the 17-degree weather early today, this female swan found herself marooned in a little pool of icy water. Brighten A Christmas

Without Dad, They Face Lean Holiday

All over Mansfield boys and girls are preparing their lists of expected Christmas gifts, and all over the city mothers and fathers are busily shopping for these same gifts.

But for one Mansfield family, the shopping would be comparatively simple, just purchasing underwear, socks and pajamas. That is, it would be an easy list to fill if any money were available.

These four boys and girls, three teen-agers and an 11-year-old boy are forward-looking young people. They know that before long there will be zero weather and lots of ot. But when your father has been dead 11 years, and your mother is unable to work, even such things as the necessary wardrobe items soon become luxuries.

However, the youngest, an active boy, secretly wishes that by some miracle, a bicycle would become his personal property on Christmas day. It doesn't have to be a new one, in fact, he doesn't care whether it even shines any more or not, just so he can ride. He's never had a bicycle, you see.

Then, too, the oldest daughter could be very happy with a pair of black and white saddle shoes.

The family's Christmas dinner will be prepared from the basket of staple groceries which their church sends them each year, but the addition of a chicken could transform an ordinary everyday dinner into a real holiday feast.

Present plans do not include a Christmas tree, but a small one would give their tiny, neat living room a touch of gaiety that has been lacking for several years. It would mean bringing down a box of Christmas tree ornaments which has been gathering dust for several years in the tiny attic, but the young people would love that.

If you would like to "Brighten the Christmas" of this deserving family, call Mrs. Margaret Mattox at the News-Journal office, 4251-6, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. They are family "B" in the Brighten a Christmas program being sponsored this year by the Salvation Army and the News-Journal.

Man Beats 3 to Death

ESTILL, S. C. —(U.P.)— Officers today questioned John Bowers, a 53-year-old storekeeper, in an effort to find out what made him beat his wife, son and daughter to death with a baseball bat.

Bowers' 38-year-old wife, May, lay lifeless in the doorway. His son Wayne, 7, was dead on the porch, apparently struck down as he tried to flee.

The daughter, four-year-old Sandria, was still alive when officers arrived. She raised a hand as if to reach for an ice cream cone which lay melting on the floor beside her, then collapsed.

Police rushed Sandria to a hospital where she soon died of a crushed skull. Blood was everywhere. Police found blood splattered as high as seven feet up on the walls.

Honor Ohio Beauty

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Alice Lou Lipford of Akron, the newly-crowned "Miss American Hotels," will be honored by the Ohio Hotel association here tonight. Miss Lipford, a 23-year-old cashier at Akron's Mayflower hotel, will be guest at a formal dinner dance in the Deshler Wallick hotel.

Tree Theft Proves Flop

Cutters Scared, Abandon Loot

Thieves who cut more than 100 Christmas trees on the Philip Schmutzler farm near Adario were frightened away before they could escape with their loot last night.

Mrs. J. J. Bishop, whose husband rents the farm, said the trees had been cut during the past two days and piled near a road, apparently to be picked up later.

Bishop called sheriff's deputies who went to the farm yesterday about 6:30 p. m. and waited but the tree-cutters didn't show up.

Later, however, Bishop and a hired man, Charles Tuttle, saw a large, covered stake-body truck going along the road and recalled deputies. However, by the time deputies were able to get back, the truck had disappeared.

Mrs. Bishop said the same truck was seen in the neighborhood several days ago and there were truck tire marks in a field near where the trees were cut.

Mrs. Bishop said her husband had a prospective buyer for the trees. He hadn't planned to cut them, he said.

Akron Moves In Gas 'War'

AKRON—(AP)—The city stepped into the fight today to help about 40 householders threatened with having the gas flow to their furnaces halted.

East Ohio Gas company already has plugged up several furnace lines because the burners were installed without permits and has threatened action on others. Because of the gas shortage, the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio last summer halted issuance of additional permits.

City Law Director Roy E. Browne reported he would ask the commission to give residences priority in the future over industrial firms.

Blaze Burns On; Firemen Are Put Out

While most Mansfielders languished in their warm beds at 6 a. m. today, workmen at the Mansfield Garment company, 827 Ashland road, thought it was a little chilly to work outside. The thermometer read 17 above zero. So with the aid of a match and a pile of rubbish the workmen built a fire to warm their hands.

Just about the time the fire was blazing nicely, a neighbor became alarmed at seeing the flames and called for the fire department. No. 4 station men rushed to the scene, only to find the workmen huddled around the fire, toasting nicely, and everything under control.

Quits Job To Escape Persecution

Czech Consul Asks Sanctuary

NEW YORK —(INS)— Czechoslovakian Consul Zdenek Smetacek of New York, who resigned in protest over Soviet pressure, appealed today to the U. S. state department for protection and "asylum as a democratic political exile."

The latest satellite-nation official to flee from Soviet terror, Smetacek, from his Long Island home, also asked protection for his wife Milada, their two children and his mother-in-law.

Smetacek, 47, and a former newspaperman, said he resigned over a specific incident but intimated that this merely was last straw in a series of events demonstrating Russia's strangle-hold of satellite officials in America.

The immediate cause of his resignation, he said, was his refusal to hold a press conference at which he was "ordered" by Prague agents to build a case against Dr. Jan Papanek.

Dr. Papanek, bitter enemy of the present Soviet-dominated Prague regime and Czech delegate to the United Nations, was fired by the communist government shortly after the mysterious death of Dr. Jan Masaryk, Czech foreign minister.

Dr. Papanek, however, defied the ultimatum and remained in his post. His status was, for many weeks, a cause celebre at the United Nations.

Pastor Given Jail Sentence To 'Meditate'

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— A minister meditated on speeding and judges and sacrilege today—in a jail cell.

The Rev. Harold A. Lindsay, Pasadena minister, pleaded guilty yesterday to speeding 70 miles an hour on a parkway and to other traffic violations. Judge Roger A. Pfaff fined him $50.

"Your honor, I thought I would get more consideration," said the minister.

"An automobile driven 70 miles an hour is just as dangerous in the hands of a minister as any other man," said the judge.

"You're being sacrilegious," said the minister.

"Don't call me sacrilegious in my court," snapped the judge. "I'm going to give you three days in jail to meditate about your attitude toward this court and our traffic laws."

Italian Official Visits Ft. Knox

FORT KNOX, Ky. — (UP) — This military post played host today to another foreign leader. Lt. Gen. Efizio Marras, chief of staff of the Italian army, was to arrive this afternoon. He will be greeted with the honors customarily accorded visiting "high brass," including a review and dinner.

Today and Friday he will observe training in progress at the armored school and other sections of the post, including a firing demonstration.

PROBE CONTINUES

CANTON — (INS) — Canton detectives continued today to question a 24-year-old suspect as they sought to end their investigation of the Saturday fight-slaying of James N. Rose, 52, of Canton.

Hearing Opened To Public

President Raps 'Dead' Committee

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Henry Julian Wadleigh, a former state department employe, refused to tell congressional spy investigators today whether he ever turned over "restricted" documents to Whittaker Chambers or Alger Hiss.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities called a public hearing and put Wadleigh on the stand in the midst of a sharp controversy between the congressional group and President Truman.

At a news conference, Mr. Truman again called the spy hearings a red herring and said the committee is a dead one. Rep. Nixon (R-Calif) fired back "the President's statement is a flagrant flaunting of the national interests of the people."

Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) said he thinks the President is wrong about the committee being dead.

Wadleigh testified to the committee that he worked for the state department from 1936 to 1943.

It was in 1937 and 1938 that Chambers, a confessed former Red courier, has said he obtained state department secret documents for relay to the Russians.

Chambers has accused Hiss, former department official, of being one of his supply sources. Hiss has denied it.

Wadleigh was called as a witness after Acting Committee Chairman Mundt had announced one of two additional persons named by Chambers as suppliers of government secrets had been located.

Mundt did not say who the man was.

The hearings followed soon after his announcement.

Wadleigh answered with a flat "no" when he was asked whether he is or ever has been a communist.

But he refused point blank to answer questions about whether he "leaked" any state department secrets on grounds the answers might "tend to incriminate me."

Mundt told him if he were in a position to answer some of the questions in the negative "it might tend to repudiate the charges made against you."

There was no indication at that point what the charges were or by whom they were made.

Mr. Truman's comment came after House investigators charged that the administration is trying to "silence" their communist spy inquiry and "keep the facts from the American people."

Rep. Richard M Nixon, R.-Cal., a member of the House Un-American Activities committee, said "Their sole aim is getting us to drop this case."

Mr. Truman originally made his red herring charge last summer during the early phases of the Chambers-Hiss inquiry. Within the past week, the committee has obtained microfilmed copies of top government secrets stolen from the state department.

SEE PERJURY CHARGE

Nixon specifically charged that the administration intended to bring a perjury indictment against Whittaker Chambers, who belatedly supplied the documentary evidence to the committee.

The President said that the justice department would continue to follow the law and leave the final disposition of the matter with the courts

Then the President added that he had no intention of getting into a controversy with what he regarded as a dead committee.

Asked whether this meant he thought the House committee should be abolished, the President said he thought the new congress would answer that question.

Boys Admit Arson

CLEVELAND - (AP)— The fire department arson squad today said three 14-year-old boys had admitted starting a fire that caused $2,500 damage Nov. 26 to a portable classroom building here. Fire Captain William Miller said the three, all members of respectable families, had been charged with juvenile delinquency.

Hope's Dad Had Faith; Doctors Were Charitable

Father's Gamble Saves Life of Doomed Youngster

COATSVILLE, Pa. — (U.P.) — Hope Hickey had a new lease on life today.

Three weeks ago, the frail, nine-year-old girl was dying of a rheumatic heart ailment. Her doctors said she had only a year to live.

Now she is on the threshhold of health with a normal life before her, thanks to the Canadian Heart Foundation and her father.

When local physicians told Edward Hickey last month that there was no hope for his daughter, the father appealed publicly to medical men everywhere for aid.

Even if they could offer the girl no chance of life, he would let them perform any operation, prescribe any treatment — on the chance it might help other victims of the dread ailment.

Hickey's gamble won. Today, Hope, still frail but with color back in her thin cheeks, is at the London, Ontario, heart foundation, where doctors gave her vitamin "E" treatments.

On Saturday, Hickey will bring her home.

And her homecoming has changed all the plans for the coming holidays. The Hickeys hadn't figured on much of a Christmas this year.

"We weren't even going to have a tree," Mrs. Hickey said. "But now it will be the best Christmas we've ever had."

There might even be that bicycle that Hope always wanted. That was her big concern when she talked to her mother over the telephone earlier this week. Her parents promised one as soon as she is able to ride.

Hickey was almost ready to promise anything when he left here last night for London.

"It's like a miracle," he said jubilantly.

"Three weeks ago, the doctors gave her a year to live. Now they say with good care there's every chance she may live a normal life."

Doctors at the Shute Foundation for Medical Research, where Hope went for treatment, reported she had made "remarkable progress" as a result of the vitamin treatments.

The girl was given large injections of vitamin E substance, alpha topophel, which she will continue to take in tablet form after she arrives home this week end.

CHRISTMAS COOKIES

Christmas cookies are fun to make, to give, to eat. Fun for the youngsters, too—even the smallest fry will want to help choose the shapes for the cookies and have a say in the colored decorations. So get out the cutters and the cookie sheets and everyone can have a merry time turning out a variety of these holiday dainties. A good basic recipe is all you need to start.

CHRISTMAS COOKIES

3½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
1½ cups sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
2 teaspoons vanilla

Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening and sugar; beat until light and fluffy. Add beaten eggs, mix well. Add vanilla. Stir in flour mixture, blending well. Cover with wax paper and chill thoroughly. Roll out ⅛ inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut Christmas trees, stars, wreaths, etc., with cookie cutters. Bake on lightly greased cookie sheets in hot oven (400° F)) 6 to 10 minutes. Yield: 6 dozen.

To make spice cookie dough, sift with the dry ingredients 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon all-spice, ½ teaspoon ginger and ¼ teaspoon cloves.

For the frostings, use tinted confectioner's sugar icing. To decorate others brush the cookies with egg white and sprinkle with candy sprills, cocoanut, red cinnamon candies and bit of green citron.

To make colored sugar for decorating cookies, place granulated sugar on wax paper and add food coloring, a drop at a time. Work with the fingertips until the color is evenly distributed. A drop of coloring will tint about two tablespoons of sugar. Use more coloring if a deeper shade is desired, but only a drop at a time.

Nurses Face Odd Mixup

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (UP) — Nurses in the maternity ward at Mary and Elizabeth hospital had a right to be confused.

Identical twin girls were born Nov. 30 to Mrs. Joseph French, 2724 Jefferson street. On Dec. 6, twin sons were born to Mrs. Joseph French, 614 Rear Myrtle St.

The mother of the girls has gone home, but the babies still are in the hospital. But before Mrs. French of Jefferson street left the hospital, Mrs French of Myrtle street moved into the same room.

The Frenches are unrelated and were unacquainted.

SET CONVENTION DATE

COLUMBUS, — (AP) — The Ohio State Grange will hold its 76th annual convention in Cleveland, starting Dec 14, Grange Master Joseph Fichter announced yesterday.

ALL IN A ROW—Lined up on an airstrip at Hawthorne, Calif., nine 100-ton Flying Wings fit into space that four ordinary bombers would occupy on a carrier's flight deck. Possessing a total carrying power of more than 1,000,000 pounds, these nine planes are being converted from piston to turbojet power.—(International Soundphoto)

Pay Boost Debate Set

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Former President Hoover will testify before a congressional committee next week on the question of raising cabinet members' salaries from $15,000 to $20,000 a year.

Budget Director James E. Webb is scheduled to give President Truman's views on the subject.

Sen. Flanders (R) Vt., chairman of the special civil service committee, said Hoover's appearance will be in his capacity as an expert on government reorganization.

The measure under committee study also would increase top salaries in independent executive agencies to as much as $18,000 yearly.

GOOD CHOICE

An argument had developed at the family breakfast table as to what was the best meal of the day.

Father insisted it was dinner. Daughter held out for lunch. Mother, thinking how it took her only 3½ minutes to cook the family's favorite cereal—Grape-Nuts Wheat-Meal—voted for breakfast.

"Your turn, Son," said Father to the busily eating fourth member of the family. "What's your favorite meal?"

"Wheat-Meal," replied the boy, and kept on eating.

Confession Clarifies Old Murder

Grave-Digger Admits Guilt

SAGINAW, MICH — (AP) — A former grave digger surrendered to police here yesterday and told them he beat to death a Philadelphia woman last spring when she spurned his advances.

He later fled the city, according to his written statement, because he learned his job required him to dig a grave for his victim.

Police Lt. Joseph Bugenske identified the man as Herbert L. Gulembo, 24, a red-haired foundry worker who recently lost his job here.

Bugenske said Gulembo told him he decided to surrender because he learned that a Philadelphia iceman, whose name he did not know, was accused of the slaying.

Gulembo, in his statement, identified his victim as Mrs. Catherine Miller and said, to the best of his memory, she was killed last april.

Records in Philadelphia show that Bayard J. Jenkins, 19 , iceman, was convicted Nov. 23 on a charge of murdering Mrs. Kathryn Meller, 43, a writer and artist, last June 7.

Jenkins, facing a possible death sentence, denied a prosecution charge that he confessed the slaying while "filled with lust." Sentence has been delayed pending an appeal for a new trial.

Gulembo was quoted as saying he beat his victim to death with a war souvenir shell in her apartment. A similar death weapon was described at Jenkins' trial.

Married and the father of three children, Gulembo said he was separated from his wife. He came to Reese, Mich., from Scottville, Mich., but recently had been living in a Saginaw rescue mission, a haven for destitute men.

The police lieutenant said Gulembo told of drinking and brooding over the woman's death after he read in Philadelphia papers that the iceman had been convicted of the slaying.

"I was afraid I was going to go haywire," Gulembo was quoted. "I can't seem to help the things I do. I think something cracked overseas."

He told officers he served five years in the army, part of the time in Italy.

Bugenske said Gulembo called police headquarters from a Saginaw tavern and blurted out part of his strange story. Officers went to the tavern and arrested him.

Announce Completion of New Plans to Admit DP's to U. S.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Walter (D-Pa) has completed a new displaced persons bill which he said would eliminate all the features President Truman has objected to in the present law.

Walter, the No. 2 Democrat on the House Judiciary committee which handles such legislation, told a reporter he will introduce the measure when the new congress opens January 3.

His bill, he said, would (A) guarantee against racial, religious or nationalistic discrimination, (B) double the number of homeless Europeans eligible to enter the United States, and (C) give them four years—instead of two years—from last July to apply for admission.

Under the present law 205,000 European refugees are to be given entry to this country the next 3 years. The measure, passed by the 80th congress last July, was denounced by President Truman during the recent campaign as being unfair to Jews and Catholics. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the Republican presidential candidate, also was critical of it.

Grandma Had the Right Idea

All You Can Do Is Relieve a Cold

By SHELDON BINN

This is the "ah-choo" season.

As the mercury plummets below the freezing mark, out come the kleenex, home remedies and the tremendous amount of advice from friends who think they know a cure.

According to medical authorities, there are no cures, except rest in bed to allow the cold to run its course and to prevent complications.

But as long as people sneeze, other people will be concocting remedies. Others will be working on means of relieving the discomfort that accompanies a cold.

And some of these home-grown remedies designed to relieve discomfort actually help, or seem to.

Grandma had a few pet remedies. She thought they cured colds—but they didn't. What they did do was make you feel a little more comfortable and what is more important, they satisfied the psychological desire to "do something" for the cold.

She gave her children all sorts of sweet herb teas and honey and milk to stop coughs. Without having any scientific basis, she was doing just about what doctors do today.

Most modern day cough syrups, excluding those that contain pain-killing drugs are nothing more, in essence, than sugar and water. They are sweet liquids to ease the rasping throat, which is just what Grandma perscribed.

And some doctors today think that a patient will feel more comfortable if he perspires when he catches cold. Packed under a lot of blankets, the perspiring is believed to help relieve aches and pains.

And what did Grandma do? She wrapped a wool sock around your neck, put goose grease and camphor on your chest and for the hardy souls, a combination of kerosene, table salt and red peppers, all to keep you warm.

There are many drugs on the market today which follow the same reasoning as Grandma. They are not cures. Most of the medicines are designed to relieve discomfort.

The common cold is usually sneezed at as an insignificant affair. It isn't. To start with, more people suffer from colds than any other disease. And it is a disease, a highly communicible one.

Statistics show that the average person has one to three colds a year. These colds slow him down, make him less efficeint on the job, and what is more important to him, make him feel terrible.

But the idea that the cold is unimportant lingers on. In fact, people are considered shirkers if they stay home from work when they catch cold. Many think that a cold is nothing to keep you from work.

That idea is erroneous. Not only is an untreated cold an invitation to influenza and pneumonia, but when you travel on buses to and from work, eat in the same restaurants and go to the same movies as other persons you are spreading your cold.

Others get sick, do less efficent jobs and millions of man hours are lost.

And what should you do about that cold. Get into bed and rest, drink a lot of liquid and stay away from other people until the cold runs its course. And if the cold doesn't go away or a fever develops, call the doctor!

Truman Given Surprise Kiss

WASHINGTON —(UP) President Truman got a kiss from an unidentified woman admirer Tuesday when he dropped in at a Democratic ladies' tea.

After the president had proposed a toast to the guest of honor, Mrs. India Edwards, executive director of the Democratic national committee's women's division, one of the ladies rushed up and kissed him.

The others, however, were content to fall in line and just shake hands with Mr. Truman.

Meat and Egg Prices Take Welcome Drop In Past Week

See Trend Holding For Holidays

Fewer Turkeys For Christmas

(By Associated Press)

The price of eggs and meat dropped in many parts of the nation this week.

Eggs declined as much as 10 cents a dozen in some cities as abundant supplies reached the market and demand eased. Trade circles blamed this lower demand largely on buyer resistance to high retail prices. But they also pointed to the seasonal high consumption of poultry as a factor.

"When families start eating a lot of poultry this time of year, that leaves meat in unusually heavy supply," said one trade analyst. "Then meat prices are reduced, and the folks who ordinarily use more eggs as a meat substitute turn back to meat. This in turn leaves eggs in a sluggish position marketwise."

Wholesale eggs were at their lowest level of the year in New York, with best grades down to 58 cents a dozen. This is 20 cents below the price three weeks ago.

In the larger chain stores in the New York area, large grade A white eggs were selling at 75 cents a dozen (Thursday), compared with 95 cents early last month, and 89 cents last year at this time. Similar trends were noted in other large cities.

Reductions in meat prices ranged from 4 to 8 cents a pound in several cities, with the largest declines in pork and lamb. However, good veal was still relatively scarce.

Market circles expected meat prices to continue at the present comparatively low levels through the holidays. Housewives traditionally are reluctant to spend as much for food when they have Christmas shopping on their minds, these sources said, and poultry was in the seasonal limelight anyhow.

Poultry men said there were indications that turkey farmers were holding back many of their young hens for breeding purposes because of the promising feed situation for 1948. This means turkey production in 1949 may be as much as 12 per cent above this year's level—but it also means there will be fewer small turkeys around for Christmas buying.

See Decision On Watershed

DEFIANCE —(AP)—The Maumee Valley Conservancy district case may go to the 15-judge court for a decision next Monday.

Testimony for and against the flood-control project was completed yesterday—after 15 days of hearings in five weeks. Before the session adjourned, opposing attorneys agreed to limit their arguments to 90 minutes each when court reconvenes Monday.

"Apparently on Monday we shall be able to finish the arguments and still have some time for consideration of the case by the court," presiding Judge Chester Pendleton of Findlay said.

PLANS RETIREMENT

U. S. Orders More Planes On Airlift

Part Shortages Hinder Progress

GREAT FALLS, Mont.—(INS)— Top air force officials said today that a new armada of Skymasters has been ordered to Germany and disclosed for the first time that a shortage of spare parts is endangering the Berlin airlift.

Maj. Gen. Bob F. Nowland, head of the air transport command's continental divide division, said a consignment of 48 Skymasters will bring the airlift strength to a total of 278 planes.

At present 230 C-54's are flying the German air corridors.

Nowland said that procurement and replacement parts for the giant planes has become a "hand-to-mouth business."

He added, however, that the "shortage" is not serious enough to airlift operations in the near future.

Nowland told a news conference that the air force is scouring surplus and foreign markets "in all parts of the world" for replacement parts. He said that about 25 per cent of the airlift's Skymasters have been put out of operation for general maintenance or lack of critical spart parts.

This figure does not include 50 of the airlift's 230 planes, which are constantly returning to the United States for 1,000-hour checks.

Nowland, in Great Falls for a two-week inspection tour of the school for airlift flight crews, said that the air force's material division is contracting with the Douglas Aircraft company for new C-54 parts in addition to buying up all old ones that are available.

Aides to the General also declared that the situation is "very tight" and could seriously cripple future operations.

Ex-Reporter Slated For State Position

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Attorney General-Elect Hugh S. Duffy plans to name William C. Bryant of Columbus as his chief counsel. Bryant, 47, now is Franklin county's assistant prosecutor. He worked as a reporter for the Ohio State Journal in Columbus, the Marion Star and the Springfield News after obtaining his law degree from Ohio State university in 1931.

Reward Increased

FREMONT —(AP)— The reward for capture of Arthur Benner jr., of Detroit, charged with the murder of a local patrolman, has been raised to $800. Tony Szymanowski, a bakery owner, added $300 to the $500 offered last week by city council.

Police Link 'Bantam Car' Bandits to Armed Robbery

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Two "bantam car" bandits charged with kidnapping two teen-age Columbus, O., girls, were linked today to the armed robbery of an Ohio State university professor and his wife.

Police said that a pair of masked men, who told their victims they were "desperate," forced Dr. and Mrs. George M. Curtis of nearby Bexley, into their home Monday night at gunpoint and robbed them of $200.

The description of the men tallies with that of Raymond L. Grambo, 29, and Jack D. Fleming, 24, sought by police since Saturday in the abduction of the two girls. Grambo has been arrested 24 times in the last 10 yeears — once for manslaughter — and Fleming has a dismissed grand larceny charge listed against him and a record as a juvenile.

A yellow Crosley station wagon, the same type car found abandoned in a nearby field, was seen driving away from the Bexley house by witnesses. Police said Fleming owned the abandoned car.

A state-wide search has been underway for the two men, who are reported to have abducted 14-year-old Eva Garrison and 16-year-old Lena Charles from their Columbus neighborhood and taken them to Dayton and Cincinnati, where they left them.

Mrs. Curtis, in reporting the robbery to police Tuesday, said she was afraid to say anything sooner because the bandits had warned:

"Don't report this to the police, or we will return and kill you. If we are caught it will mean 40 years, so make sure that we're not."

Dr. Curtis is a professor and chairman of the department of research surgery in the College of Medicine at Ohio State.

Note Ohio Tax Drop

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Ohio sales tax collections hit the skids the week ended November 27 for a half-million dollar decrease from the corresponding week of last year.

State Treasurer Don H. Ebright said it was the largest decrease for a single week in at least a half-dozen years.

Receipts for the week totaled $2,205,903, as against $2,786,676 for the corresponding period of 1947.

Ebright did not attempt to explain away the decrease, but did express an opinion that money was "tighter" this Christmas season than it was a year ago.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE SIX MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1948

Among other discomforts of winter include a thought of the high cost of sufficient fuel to keep the home comfortable.

An economist advises that there is a splendid chance of avoiding a depression "in 1949 or any other year"—which looks like a chance worth taking.

People are being warned to be on guard against counterfeit $10 and $20 bills—so look at these small bills carefully when you get change back for your $100 bills.

Lack of Parking Space Chief Problem

FAILING to obtain voluntary co-operation from the Mansfield Telephone company, the city is now moving to obtain through the courts a 60-foot right-of-way extending East Fifth street to Ashland road. This right-of-way is indeed essential to relieving of traffic congestion since it opens a new through-artery from the downtown area to a key highway leading into the city.

Opening of the eastern end of Fifth street should help cut down crowded traffic conditions on both Park avenue east and East Fourth streets.

However, the advisability of obtaining this extra right-of-way solely on the premise that it is needed to make effective a system of one-way streets seems questionable.

The whole theory of one-way streets needs to be looked at seriously from the standpoint of how it will affect downtown business in the coming months—when merchants expect to be going after trade, rather than seeing it come to them—as it has since the war.

In reality, the whole traffic problem in Mansfield boils down to just one thing: inadequate parking space in the downtown area. If off-the-street parking were provided there would not be the slightest need for one-way traffic on main thoroughfares where its desirability is highly doubtful.

Council is proceeding properly in opening the East Fifth route across the city. Its next step should be ample parking areas. These, when provided, will in all likelihood eliminate the need for one-way traffic on main streets where there is bound to be public dissatisfaction with limiting of traffic movement.

Secretary Marshall Deserves Rest

IT IS NOW definitely known that the expressed desire of Secretary of State George C. Marshall to retire from the heavy duties of that position was based on the condition of his health.

In that case there should be no question as to immediately relieving him of any responsibility in connection with functioning of the state department, as he has served his country so long and so well that full recovery of his health demands first consideration.

It is gratifying to learn that the serious kidney operation which Secretary Marshall underwent this week was successful and there is sincere hope that his full recovery will be rapid, but at his age—he will be 68 the last day of this year—there is need for conservation of strength which can scarcely be regarded as possible if he continues as active head of the state department.

Patronage Influences Bus Routes

WHILE the flexibility of bus service for public transportation is much greater than when street cars were in use, with their routes determined by tracks available, it still must be taken into account that all streets cannot be profitably served by buses and that some walking is necessary in reaching a bus stop.

Appeal by residents of the Maple Lake area for more convenient bus service in that part of the city seems justified, if suggested route changes would provide better service for more people than at present.

These are matters that merit careful consideration by city officials and the operating company, as the best in public transportation is a resonable expectation of Mansfielders—always remembering that patronage must be sufficient to make maintenance of service profitable as well as convenient.

When Youthful Steps Are Unguided

TWO apparently quite disassociated items in yesterday's News-Journal might be connected in the train of thought started on its way by recent arrests of teen-age culprits and locally ignored contributing causes of juvenile delinquency.

One of yesterday's items told of damage done at the South Mulberry street viaduct by youthful vandals. The other, under Columbus dateline, touched on the weary waiting of Murl Daniels in his death row cell, for the Jan. 3 date on which he is scheduled to die in the electric chair for the murder of the Niebel family here last July.

The start of Daniels toward the electric chair followed the familiar pattern of minor offenses leading to greater ones, until the climax of multiple murders was reached.

Inclination of courts, and some parents, is to minimize the importance of juvenile misbehavior, but its potentialities cannot be safely ignored—nor its causes tolerantly disregarded.

When it was revealed that the White House was in dangerous condition the public buildings administration announced that "a program of action was immediately implemented"—which, being translated, means: "We got busy."

Claude Callan expresses an apparently popular idea: "We like to be strong and independent, so we wish the government would send us a check every month and enable us to feel that way."

Question passing around at the moment: "Have you read Jane's book?"—meaning, of course, "No Other Star," by Jane Williams. Have you?

What Some Other People Are Saying

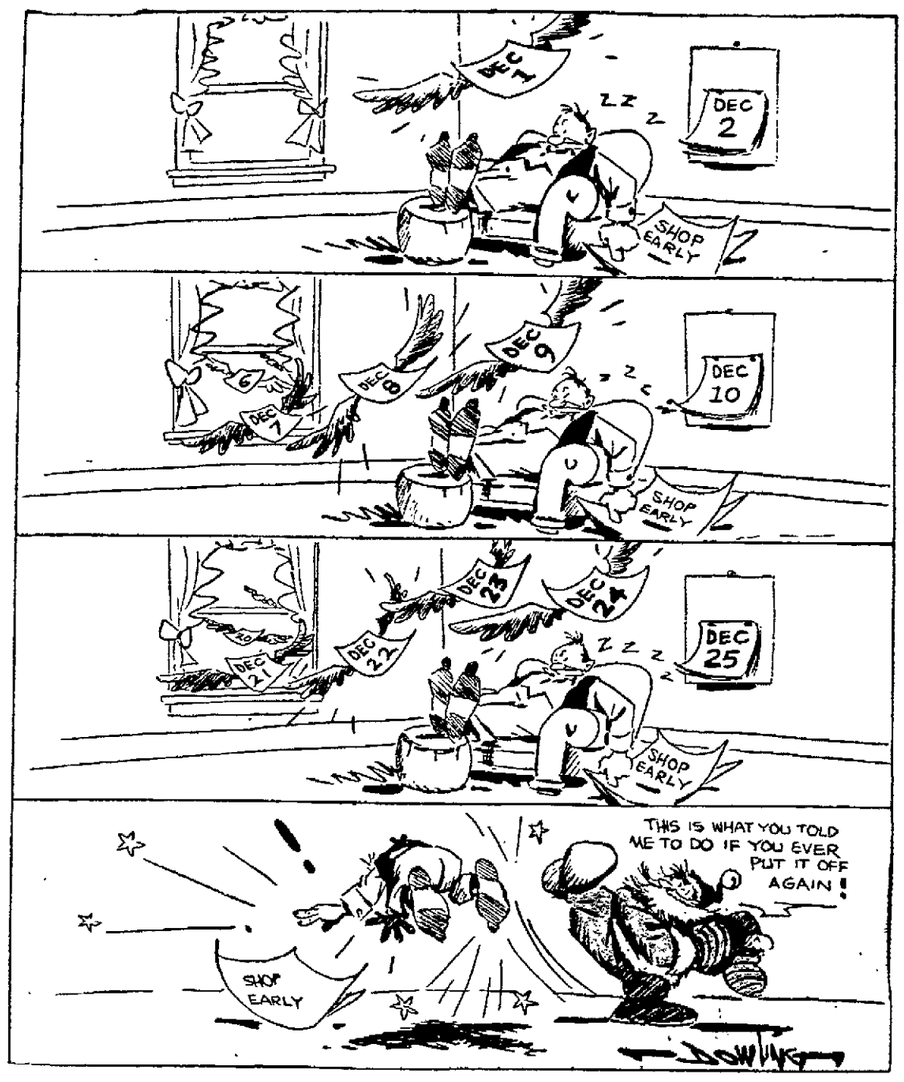
EDWIN G. NOURSE, chief of the Council of Economic Advisors: "Despite some price reductions, the economic climate is still inflationary and a price curb program is still at the front of the legislative picture."

* * *

PETER PIROGOV, escaped Soviet flyer: "Seventy per cent of the Russian people have nothing to eat, own nothing, cannot forget the 1937 purge and thus really hate the Soviet regime."

* * *

ELEANOR ROOSEVELT, chairman of the U.N. Human Rights Commission: "All the governments, even the totalitarian regimes which control the means of information are affected by what their people want. . . . This information will eventually seep into countries where the governments are not so anxious for it."



The Days Until Christmas.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

New Deal Adds to 'Impoverished Third'

IN A RECENT column I suggested that one of the important immediate brakes on inflation is the great mass of people who voted for Truman in the belief that he could reduce prices if given a new term and a Congress to his liking.

Those people may be waiting for an economic miracle and, consequently, are holding over their buying until next year. This group may be called the hopeful half of the nation, if we adopt Roosevelt's habit of dividing the nation into convenient fractiones.

But since the late President first talked about "one-third of the nation," a lot of money has gone by the mill. And the identity of the submerged one-third has greatly changed.

The delayed spending of the hopeful half of the nation will be only temporary, for its very delay will check prices and induce new spending.

But another fraction of the nation, variously estimated at something like a fifth, will not resume spending. That is the group with small fixed incomes derived from pensions, insurance, permanent investments and white-collar salaries.

This group is seriously and perhaps permanently injured. It has been expropriated by so-called reform measures designed to lift Roosevelt's "one-third."

Perhaps if Roosevelt had been more explicit in his political examination of his third, he would have recognized this very group that 16 years have reduced to semi-poverty.

* * *

"Middle-Class" Poverty.

FOR THIS group is getting no better fast. The most recent federal reserve figures on savings throw a lot of light on the economic situation of these people. In the three years since the war, the lowest third among the spending units of the nation was saving less at a rapidly accelerating rate. The federal reserve has this to say:

"In 1946 the largest proportions of spending units reporting net withdrawals in liquid assets and increases in debt were in the income group of $2,000 to $2,999. Comparison with 1946 data indicates that the larger number of dis-savers at higher income levels in 1947 resulted from more frequent use of accumulated savings and credits."

This group is not staging a buyer's strike. It is suffering a price lockout. Many in this group used to believe they were middle-class people. The fact is that a large part of the so-called middle class has been economically liquidated. And the net effect of this, reflected in lines like clothing and household furnishings, is now glaringly evident in sales at cut prices.

This is the group which is most seriously threatened by the prospects of a fourth round of wage increases demanded by the stronger and best-paid unions.

It also is threatened by measures involved in the Truman promises—more spending and more support for agricultural prices.

Another group, for which less public concern will be shown, is the group which enjoys higher incomes. In 10 years, the $5,000-$10,000 man has suffered a tax and inflation expropriation of about 50 per cent.

The $25,000 man, once among the opulent of the land, now has $10,000 left after taxes and increases in prices. He is about 60 per cent less opulent than he was in 1938. And while no wolf haunts his door, yet he greatly curtails his spending and in many cases is cutting into savings and borrowing money.

The Harry Hopkins saga is full of incidents in which the presidential confidant threatened his well-to-do friends with this fate. He was speaking by the book. And since his death his prediction has been growing more and more accurate.

What was not told by Hopkins and his boss was that in whittling down the opulent, they also were impoverishing a large part of their "one-third of the nation."

The Nation Today

Seek Truth About Spies

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — So far as the public is concerned there are three main points in the excitement over the Chambers-Hiss-secret-papers' case.

1. How those highly secret papers ever got out of the state department.

2. What kind of spy ring was really operating here in Washington, how it operated, and who was involved.

3. Whether anything like that is going on now and what protection the government has against it.

Whittaker Chambers, admitted member of a communist spy ring here before the war, has produced the secret papers.

He did this after he had been sued for $75,000 by Alger Hiss, former state department official.

Chambers, at public hearings of the House un-American activities committee last summer and in a radio interview, accused Hiss of being a member of a pre-war communist "apparatus" in Washington.

Hiss denied this and his libel suit against Chambers was a challenge to Chambers to put up or shut up and pay damages. Chambers then came up with the papers

From the way sensations have been piled one upon another we're probably in for a lot of fireworks.

But this case now—since it's become known that these highly confidential papers got out of the state department and into Chambers' hands—goes a lot further than Hiss or Chambers.

The papers cover a period in 1937-38. And all this may seem like old stuff now.

* * *

Who Can Be Trusted?

BUT IF there was a spy ring here then, the question is:

How far did it reach into the government, that it could get those papers—some of them marked "Strictly Confidential for the Secretary of State"—into the hands of a man, Chambers, who said he was a communist at that time?

And if a spy ring could have been built so beautifully, what reason is there to believe it was ever completely broken up?

Sumner Welles, former undersecretary of state, and John E. Puerifoy, present assistant secretary, testified they consider the documents so important that even now the nation might be endangered if they were published.

A federal grand jury in New York investigated an alleged spy ring here for about 14 months and got nowhere. Now, with these secret papers available, it's beginning its investigation again.

And the un-American activities committee spent many weeks, and got many headlines, investigating an alleged spy ring here and didn't wind up with much more than deadlines.

Now the committee is rushing back into its investigation.

The committee and the grand jury, with the help of justice department agents, now have a chance to make a thorough investigation into spy ring work here—if any—past and present.

The welfare of the country requires a complete investigation with facts, instead of one-day sensations and headlines, to show what really has happened.

When the Canadian government broke the Soviet spy ring in its country, it went about the job quietly and completely and was scrupulous in protecting innocent people from damage.

When it got through, a bunch of Canadians went to jail for spying for the Russians.

So far the investigations by the un-American activities committee and the New York grand jury haven't landed anybody anywhere except in the headlines.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Purge By Wallace Didn't Include Hiss

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — By a queer quirk of fate, Henry Wallace, when secretary of agriculture, fired a group of liberal employes because some of them were supposedly too left-wing. But though in the group, Wallace did not fire Alger Hiss, now charged by Whittaker Chambers with giving out secret state department documents to a communist agent.

His was assistant counsel for Wallace's agricultural adjustment administration, and had written an opinion that Triple-A benefit payments for curtailing the cotton crop should go to sharecroppers as well as to landlords. This caused a lot of criticism in the South.

Other clashes of opinion occurred between Triple-A lawyers and top agricultural department executives regarding the milk-marketing code and the meat-packing code.

Some of the young AAA attorneys and consumer representatives were vigorous in opposing both Wallace and Chester Davis, then AAA administrator.

In the end, Wallace sided with the big southern cotton men and fired most of the rebels.

Among those purged were Gardner Jackson, so hated by the communists that he was beaten up in New York by a communist agent; also Fred Howe, a Woodrow Wilson Democrat; and Frank Shea, who later occupied a position of importance in the Justice department. But Hiss was not purged, even though he wrote the sharecroppers' opinion.

However, he was subjected to such criticism by his associates for remaining on the job that his old friend, Felix Frankfurter, now Supreme Court justice, then professor at the Harvard Law school, telephoned Gardner Jackson asking that the critics lay off. Hiss had been a protege of Frankfurter's and had been recommended by him for a job in Washington.

* * *

Gouzenko Revelation.

ABOUT a month later, Hiss transferred briefly to the Justice department, then to the state department, where he served under Francis Sayre, assistant secretary of state. Sayre had been a professor at Harvard law school when Hiss was a student there.

Many of the secret documents which have turned up in the possession of Whittaker Chambers, the ex-communist agent, were marked as from the office of Assistant Secretary of State Sayre.

When Igor Gouzenko, the Soviet code clerk in Canada, exposed the Canadian-American spy ring to Canadian authorities, he revealed that one Soviet contact was either an assistant secretary of state or an assistant to an assistant secretary.

Hiss was investigated at that time. There was nothing conclusive about Gouzenko's identification, however, and Hiss was permitted to resign. It was two years later that he was named by Chambers as one of the contact men for the communist ring in Washington.

* * *

Army Copies Navy.

WHILE the Navy and Air Forces are spitting at each other over Secretary Forrestal's shoulder, Gen. Omar Bradley, Army chief of staff, has been willing to take a tip from the Navy in training troops. He has also taken some suggestions from Sen. Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts.

As a result, more raw recruits will be trained by warrant officers, fewer by commissioned officers.

This new policy came about partly because of an inspection trip by Gen. Willard Paul, chief of Army personnel, who liked the way the Navy was training troops at its Great Lakes training station.

He reported back to Gen. Bradley that the Navy, using warrant officers, was doing just as good a job as with young commissioned officers—possibly better.

Simultaneously, Sen. Cabot Lodge, a reserve lieutenant colonel, wrote Bradley a friendly letter about his two weeks training at Camp Hood, Texas.

Anxious that the Army do a good job in handling 18-year-olds, Lodge stressed the need for good young officers, both commissioned and noncommissioned. He suggested that the Army use great care in ordering reserve officers back to active duty for fear they were not properly qualified. It's better for the Army to be short-handed, Lodge urged, than call up a lot of officers who are inadequate.

Bradley, more anxious than anyone else that the Army's new, difficult training program succeed, appreciated the Lodge suggestions, took them up before a group of his corps commanders. They decided, as the Navy already had, that in many cases sergeants and warrant officers would be better for troop-training than young lieutenants. Noncoms, therefore, will be used not merely as drill-masters but in increasingly important sub-commands.

* * *

Merry-Go-Round.

PRESIDENTIAL insiders are convinced that the man President Truman ultimately wants as Secretary of State is Chief Justice Fred Vinson. . . . President Truman is still having trouble finding his clothes and other things after they were moved across Pennsylvania avenue to the temporary White House. "It's what always happens," he said the other day, "when someone else does the moving for you." . . . Warren Austin, much-loved American delegate to the United Nations, who has just undergone a serious operation, will resign by January. . . . Albert Fitzgerald, head of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (largest CIO left-wing union), is negotiating to swing over to the right, deserting his pro-commie followers. . . . Mme. Chiang Kai-shek had asked Secretary Marshall to increase military and economic aid to China by about ten times. In return, Madame Chiang says, the Chinese are willing to have their government and army run by American advisers—lock, stock, and barrel.

Assignment: America

Journeying In Yucatan

By KENNETH L. DIXON

CHI CHEEN ITSA, Yucatan, Mexico—It is 90 miles by auto from comparatively modern Merida, with its newspapers, its late model cars and its Rotary club, to ancient Chi Cheen Itsa, where magnificent stone structures still stand amid the ruins of a two-thousand-year-old cultured American civilization.

The road which takes you from the present to the past is a brownish gray scar slitting the lush crowding greenness of the thick jungle which once was burned off by early Mayan farmers to provide cornfields but which crept back like an inexorable tide when the ancient culture finally collapsed.

Not yet quite finished, the road is a good one by most standards. It has taken years to build, since the work is done almost entirely by hand, aided only by such rudimentary machines as stone-crushers and wheel-barrows.

It is good because the stone from which it is built abounds on all sides and, there being no shortage of materials, the thick solid roadbed becomes an all-weather route, defying even the heavy drenching summer rains to do it much damage.

There are huts and villages all along the way, huddled near the roadside in isolated and continuing struggle against the creeping hungry green foliage.

* * *

From Ancient Times.

IN THOSE thatch-roofed huts, with their palisade-like walls, live the Mayan farmers—descendants of that long-crumbled civilization—whose razor-edged machetes chop back the jungle tentacles enough to leave a few fields free for crops and the feeding of cattle, pigs, chickens, turkeys and their beasts of burden.

In the villages, there are some stone and adobe-like buildings, but even they are topped by thatched roofs for the most part, and the majority of the dwelling places are constructed of sapling-sized wooden stakes, driven into the ground in a rectangular pattern and braced on the inside by cross-beamed and interlocking saplings.

The breezes can sift through the gaps in the stake-walls, and the floors are mostly of dirt, sometimes raised and reinforced by rock and limestone.

At first glance, it would seem impossible to keep clean in such surroundings, yet somehow the Yucatan Indians do it.

They are reputed to be the cleanest Indians in the world, and their glistening faces and the dazzling whiteness of the garments hanging on their clothes-lines support the contention.

As a rule, the home of a Yucatan Indian family consists of two thatched-roofed huts, about 20 feet apart, with a vine-covered trellis-work shielding the connecting pathway from the sun.

The family lives in the first building which is perhaps 15 x 25 feet in dimensions and combines the new and the old in living conditions. The entire family, perhaps numbering ten people, will sleep there, in net-like hammocks which stretch from wall to wall.

(The old Mayan engineering tricks have carried through the centuries here, for the seemingly weak palisade construction of the huts is strong enough to support the hundreds of pounds of inward-pulling weight each night.)

By day, one end of each hammock is unhooked and folded up flatly against the opposite wall, in shipshape navy fashion, leaving the entire room clear of any obstruction and free for daytime living.

All this you see along the road from Merida to Chi Cheen Itsa, as well as market-bound pedestrians leading burdened burros or carrying their bundles on their heads or their pigs and chickens in their arms . . . all this, and occasional Coca-Cola signs on the village buildings and a billboard advertising some auto hanging from the eaves of a thatched roof.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

THREE public libraries have moved the story of Cinderella from the fable to fact shelf in view of the current spy news.

* * *

Since a red herring turned into a pumpkin in plain sight there is no further reason to doubt that a pumpkin turned into a golden coach.

* * *

But it is disconcerting after we have been assured the country is spy-free to find pictures of navy yards turning up in our pie filling.

* * *

Now many who had indigestion after Thanksgiving are wondering whether their trouble was overeating turkey or over-exposed film.

* * *

I heard the FBI has rushed an order for blue jeans, mud boots and a voice teacher who can say "Wal I Swan" with a pumpkin-patch accent.

* * *

But there is no truth to the rumor that apple growers are afraid to peel their northern spy crop.

Timely Editorial

Disillusioned Convicts

At a free entertainment given in the Huntsville (Tex.) prison, and attended by outsiders, 19 little banks were passed among the audience by convicts, for a collection. A newspaper published by the inmates now complains that only 18 banks were returned; thinks some crook must have come in with the crowd!

By indirection, perhaps, all this lends point to one of the late Wilson Mizner's many cynical aphorisms:

"There is no honor among thieves. They're no better than the rest of us." — Detroit News.

Farmer's Diary

Resume For Newcomers

By CALVIN A. BYERS

(Author's Note—The Houston (Tex.) Chronicle has just joined our family of newspapers.)

* * *

THIS newspaper column has been likened to an old-fashioned family picnic where each brings his own hamper. What you have to eat depends upon what is in your basket, we furnish the applesauce. Applebutter, rather. The homemade kind, and every member of our family has a part in making it.

What I mean to say is, whatever affects a family upon a family sized farm is grist for this record. Ours is subsistence farming, still, building toward the day when our children shall be sufficiently grown-up and educated to warrant my retirement from high school teaching. By that time, we hope our orchard, which was started six years ago, may be bearing profitably.

We hold that there is no better place on earth to live than on an Ohio farm. Out our way every farmer, from his own barnyard, can look up and see the stars.

Our only daughter married last spring. Our four boys are 18, 13, 11 and 9. We live in a small brown house with a galvanized metal roof, that was built when the square white farmhouse that originally stood here was burned to the ground.

It's not much of a house. It stands firmly, though, and if tussling boys stick their elbows or knees through the plasterboard walls, we take it in stride. Some day we shall raise the roof, add an ell and a chimney. We already added a kitchen to replace the sagging back stoop—doing most of the work ourselves, during wartime.

A lovely clear spring of soft water flows out of the sandstone beside our cottage. It is piped into the kitchen—cold water. We have electric power, by the REA line, and a school bus goes by our door. We have cows for our milk and butter, chickens for our own eggs, we raise hogs for our meat and kill a young beef every February. We have electric refrigeration, but no deep freeze. We cure our own hams and can our beef for the summer.

Last Christmas I bought a radio. It has been a nuisance. I'd willingly swap it, now, for—well, you make an offer! My father and my grandfather did a better job than I, of educating boys to work and sing. It's a fine thing to sing while you work—but, myself, I need a wide back field in which to do it.

I've been accused of being a romantic fellow. Perhaps I am. Occasionally I enjoy poetry. This column is a recreation for my wife and me. We read them to each other before we send them on to you. The ones we can't endure, you'll never see!

If Disaster Strikes the County— Red Cross Volunteers Are Ready

By NITA BRANSON

If disaster should suddenly strike the Mansfield and Richland county area, Red Cross volunteers are ready to get into immediate action.

Final plans for the program here were set up in a two-day institute held under the supervision of Miss Margaret Hallagan, disaster preparedness expert from area headquarters in Alexandria, Va.

Meeting with L. L. Mishey, chairman of the disaster committee for Richland county, sub-committee chairman and all volunteer workers in the program, Miss Hallagan outlined the things to be done in case of a major catastrophe.

"There are four main needs that follow any disaster," Miss Hallagan said. "These four are food, clothing, shelter and medical care. These are the emergency needs that must be met immediately when diaster strikes.

"Later, a rehabilitation program is followed through, but emergency needs must be met first and that is for people of any community to care for. In case the financial burden becomes too great for the community visited by disaster, then the National Red Cross steps in and assists."

Miss Hallagan cited instances where the Red Cross has not only taken over the emergency work, which followed disaster, but has continued through rehabilitation the work of putting families back on their feet, of assuming mortgages on homes, of obtaining plastic surgery that may take a period of years, and generally restoring individuals and communities to their normal status of living.

WRECK RECALLED

Mrs. Bess Augsberger, executive director of the chapter here, cited the train wreck on Dec. 13, 1946 near Lucas.

"Within twenty minutes after he was called early that morning, Paul Sturges, chairman of the food sub-committee had the necessary food here at the chapter house ready to be taken to the scene," she said.

Sturges is one of a number of sub-chairmen, whose work thoroughly canvasses not only Mansfield but Richland county as well.

There are in addition survey men and women, whose duty it is to notify headquarters when a disaster strikes. These key men and women are under the supervision of C. C. Beelman, survey chairman, and include: R C Lutz, Lexington, C. A Innes, Butler; Earl McQuate, Plymouth; I P. Stake, Adario; L. L. Ringhart, Sandusky township; Mrs Frederic Morgan, Vetsville, G L. Cherp, Bellville; Miss Esther Barnett, Lucas.

Other sub-chairmen besides Sturges and Beelman, are Dr. C. H. Bell, medical care; R. D. Iden, transportation; R. M. Calene, clothing; W. L. Miller, shelter; Avery Hand, purchasing; and Floyd Hoover, rescue.

The meeting was attended by Red Cross workers and city and county men and women who could be called on in case of a castastrophe. They included: Mrs. Myron K. Cook, president of the Shelby chapter; George Zeiters, Shelby disaster chairman; Sgt. J. H. Gorham and Patrolman John Kark of the highway patrol; Lt. John E. Steel of the Mansfield police department. Iden, I. L. McQuate, Shiloh; Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Reynolds, Shiloh.

Frank A. Berkey, vice chairman of the chapter; Ensign J. C. Haynes of the naval reserve; Sam H. Campbell, vice chairman of the disaster committee, Calene, Mrs. Eleanore Sheehe, Mrs. W. R. Hauserman, Harry Dailey, chairman of the safety committee of the Chamber of Commerce; Hoover, Gerald Coron, first aid director, Mrs. Beatrice Balyeat, Miss Barnett and Mrs. Augsburger.

Miss Hallagan also met with registration and explained the procedure to be carried out by these key people at a time of disaster. Individual conferences were held with each of the sub-chairmen.

Shopping Proves Strain On Nerves

Housewives who complain that marketing makes them sick are perfectly right!

Psychologists say that a few moments of intense strain and emotion can tire you as thoroughly as hours of hard work, declares Edwina Evans Driscoll in the Journal of Living And every woman knows that emotional distress can come just from shopping.

Slowness and delays are the greatest shopping irritants of all, Miss Driscoll found Grumpy merchants run a close second. Interviews with a number of women have brought forth the following suggestions for easier marketing

First, remember that a long trip can cancel a low price and a long wait can cancel a short trip. Even in these days of inflationary food prices convenient shopping is sometimes worth the extra cost in cash.

Plan your purchases before you leave the house This is particularly important if you have to carry your own packages Don't load your arms with bundles—a two-wheeled cart is a great strength-saver. If you have children, let them help.

Women spend too much time shopping to take it for granted Since marketing is such a large part of the "household profession," it is well worth a little thought on ways to make it easier.

HOROSCOPE

BY GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, December 10

THERE are portents of an explosive, hectic and turbulent state of affairs, in which rash and intemperate action could beget serious loss, regrets, sorrows and even physical, dangers or disaster It is likely that such intemperate behavior could be brought about by discovery of an undertone of the subtle, treacherous and sinister. A flash of resentment could create a vicious circle, with calamity and duplicity reacting in devious ways. Balance, calmness and restraint might avert serious loss

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are under a stormy and stressful astral incitement, in which several forms of strife, trickery, treachery and resentment might incite a turbulent, tumultuous and explosive state which might culminate in dangers, hectic and wild behavior, with unhappy and unwholesome reactions on business, domestic, social, emotional and also physical contacts and ties A steady, serene and balanced state of mind and feelings could avert danger and loss in many aspects. Count the cost before exploding

A child born on this day may be ready to "fly off the handle" at the proverbial "drop of the hat," to the detriment of its peace of mind, standing and good repute.

Serve a fall fruit cup of seeded grapes mixed with diced pineapple and banana, squeese lemon or orange juice over the fruit for extra flavor and garnish with a sprig of mint This fruit cup may be used as an appetizer or for dessert.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

39 Needed By Air Unit

With only 39 more men needed, the 164th Fighter Squadron is fast approaching its full-strength quota of 353 officers and men.

Added incentive was given to recruiting for the air reserve group when plans were announced Sunday for a simulated bombing of the Mansfield airport. In spite of the fact that weather prevented the "bombing" at the last minute, enlistment has continued at a brisk pace, with an average of three per day, unit officials said.

Recruiting deadline is Jan. 1, Capt. William O. Ash, commanding officer, said. If the 353 quota is reached by that date, it will make the Mansfield unit the youngest and the largest in the state.

Application blanks for recruiting may be had at the temporary headquarters at the airport.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Yes Sir, Insomnia's Contagious!

When Bud Swanson had trouble sleeping nights, and tried to get over it by turning up the radio full blast, he started an epidemic of insomnia all down the block!

Folks finally dropped a hint to Bud that he close the windows or turn the radio a little lower. Bud did—and that was the quickest cure for other folks' insomnia I've ever heard of!

Not that any of us object to the radio, or swing bands, or anything else that helps another person relax of an evening. (Myself, I like a glass of beer with a bit of cheese before I go to bed. I can't speak for you.)

From where I sit, good neighborliness means nothing more than simply respecting the other person's tastes and rights—without forcing your own tastes or opinions down his throat. And that goes for Bud's radio, my glass of beer, or whatever temperate pleasure you happen to enjoy.

Club Gives $75 to Aid Youngsters

40 et 8 Plans Yule Parties For Kiddies

A check for $75 will help to make it a merry Christmas for boys and girls under the supervision of the Richland county juvenile court or under commitment by the court.

The check was received from the 40 et 8 club of the American Legion yesterday and was presented by John Parry, commissiare intendent of the 40 et 8, to Ralph Carroll, county juvenile officer.

Carroll said he has received several replies to his request for gifts or cash donations for gifts for county boys and girls in state and other institutions

The gifts will go to 12 boys in the Lancaster Industrial school, two girls in the Delaware Industrial school, one in the Catholic charities home, one boy in the bureau of juvenile research in Columbus, and one boy on a farm.

PARTY PLANNED

Another project of the 40 et 8 is a Christmas party for the children at the Richland county Children's home, to be given Christmas eve.

George Kahl, 40 et 8 child welfare committee chairman, said there will be entertainment and Santa Claus will give presents to the children

James Brownscombe will be master of ceremonies and John Grabler will play the accordion.

Kahl said the 40 et 8 also has made arrangements to pay half of the expense for a Christmas party for the children at Friendly House. This party will be on the night of Dec. 20. The other half of the expenses will be paid by the Hermit club.

Hal Boyle

After Kidding About Pains and Ills of Others, Writer Gets His

(Editor's Note: Hal Boyle, the hypochondriac who walks like a man, fled his desk a week ago moaning, "My foot. Oh-h, my foot." Today the following story arrived, typewritten on a torn pillow slip:)

WRITTEN FROM A WRINKLED BED—(AP)—Look at me. I'm an ex-rheumatoid.

No, not a parlor, bedroomatoid and bath. A real, honest-to-aspirin, fully repaired ex-rheumatoid. That's me.

Some days back I wrote a piece revealing for the first time the Boyle secret of staying healthy.

It was very simple. You just buddy up to all the office hypochondriacs — the people who imagine they have chronic ailments. Then you follow all their diets, and take all their capsules, pills, nose drops and nostrums.

Just borrow them. Any hypochondriac will share his last pill with you—if you'll just listen to his symptoms. And nobody ever asks you to return a used pill.

Well, for ten years this cheap, foolproof system worked perfectly. I knew sickness only through hearsay. Stuffed with scores of high-octane medicines, I was a strolling drugstore, protected against every disease known to man—from anemia to zymosis.

Or so I thought. Then I published my secret to the world—how to stay well by preying on hypochondriacs. And what happened?

Two days later I sprang out of bed and—"ow-w-w-ch!" my right foot was red, swollen and sensitive as an old maid at a wedding reception.

I hobbled into the office, and bird-dogged around to my favorite hypochondriacs. I held up my lame foot.

"Didn't twist, strain, bruise, or break it—or anything," I explained. "Just woke up this morning and there it was, pulsing like a turkey gobbler. What's wrong?"

And right there I lost my faith in these bathroom scientists. Listening to them is about as helpful as going walking in a revolving door to cure the hiccoughs.

"Just falling arches," diagnosed one. "Soak it in hot epsom salts."

"It's mental," said the office's amateur psychiatrist. You've got a delusion. Soak it in hot epsom salts."

"Looks to me like retroactive, post-war trench foot—or, in plain words, gold-bricking." sniped a third false friend. "Soak it in hot epsom salts."

But they all agreed my story was completely unlikely. And that the only thing to do was "soak it in epsom salts."

I hot-footed home to Frances, a limp at a time. And with that quick intuition that comes only to good women she said, "Go see my doctor."

I did. He unveiled my throbbing foot. He squeezed it like a miser grabbing a $20 gold piece. When I climbed down from the chandelier, still tingling, I croaked hopefully:

"Tell me it's guot, Doc. My family has been in America for only three generations. If I'm the first one to get the gout—what a suucess story!"

"Look what thinks it's got gout," jeered the Doc. "You have to have enough money to eat well to get the gout.

You've just got a rheumatoid infection. There's no use in my trying to explain what a rheumatoid infection is. Just tell your friends you got arthritis or rheumatism. These infections usually settle in a joint."

"Lucky it didn't settle in my jaw," I mumbled.

"Would that be so bad for mankind?" murmured the Doc, scratching out a prescription.

Another Car Crashes Pennsy Gate

Mansfield Driver Escapes Injury

A Mansfield motorist narrowly escaped injury last night when he crashed the gates at the East Fourth street Pennsylvania crossing.

The motorist identified himself to police as Robert Pewonski, 23 Jefferson avenue, when he reported the incident at 6:10 p. m. Pewonski admitted he started across the tracks while the gates were being lowered and damaged his car and the west gate, police said.

Witnesses said Pewonski passed a car which was stopped at the tracks, missed the east gate but scraped his car and broke the end section off the west gate.

E. J. White, sergeant of police for the railroad, told The News-Journal today that he would not prosecute Pewonski although a violation had been committed.

A series of near accidents at the crossing since summer recently resulted in a visit of Pennsylvania officials here to consider installation of automatic gates, flashers and bells at the East Fourth, East Fifth and Orange street crossings.

THROUGH THE PILLOWS

Patients at Mansfield's three hospitals, General, Madison and People's, may now hear radio programs without fear of disturbing the patient in the next bed. Small compact radios with "pillow speakers" have been installed and may be rented. The speaker is attached to a long cord and placed under the pillow, through which the sound comes clearly but not loud enough to bother someone else.

SCOUT CALENDARS READY—

Mansfield's Boy Scouts and Cubs are each going to receive new 1949 calendars from a local dairy company. The calendars are in the Boy Scout office waiting for the scoutmasters to pick them up for their troops. In addition to the small calendars to be given to the 516 scouts and 286 cubs in the city, large ones are to go to the meeting places of the 21 troops and eight cub packs. The picture on the calendar depicts a scout bandaging the paw of a doleful dog held in the arms of a cub.

Air Force B-36 Sets Top Mark

Flies 8,000 Miles Nonstop

FT. WORTH, Tex. — (AP) The biggest bomber has made its greatest flight.

The air force announced today its giant pride, a B-36, flew non-stop from Ft. Worth to Honolulu and return, breaking its own record.

At 7 p. m. (CST) last night, 35 hours and more than 8,000 miles after takeoff time, the great silver ship touched down at this city's Carswell air field.

And it had carried "a useful bomb load" to the halfway mark, dropping the bombs in the ocean off Honolulu.

Brig. Gen. J. B. Montgomery of the strategic air command made the announcement here — after hours of official silence.

"It is the best the B-36 has ever done, but it was a routine training flight—well within the capabilities of the bombers," said the general. "It was in excess of 8,000 miles."

Crewed by 15 men, the ship flew from Ft. Worth to Honolulu by way of San Diego, Calif., and returned via San Francisco.

"From San Francisco, it did not fly directly to Ft. Worth," said Montgomery. "It flew to the east of Ft. Worth and then returned."

Built to carry 10,000 pounds of bombs 10,000 miles, the Superbomber staggers the imagination of the public and the men who fly it. It's as big as three five-room houses and its 67-foot tail is as high as a four-story building. It was groaned into the air at its full gross weight of 278,000 pounds. No other plane ever toted such a load.

Its amazing wings stretch 230 feet—almost the length of a football filed—and they flap lazily in flight. And the '36 is so long—163 feet—its crewmen use a little scooter on rails to zip from nose to tail.

Six pusher engines shove the Superbomber along at better than 350 miles per hour.

The flight was not a record for distance. In October, 1946, a navy Lockheed Neptune patrol bomber flew from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, O., 11,236 miles.

The air force hopes to stretch the '36's bombing range to 12,000 miles.

Kaser Heads Sad Sacks

Amvet Unit Seats Officers For Year

Robert Kaser was installed as the "Saddest Sad Sack" of the Mansfield chapter of the Sad Sacks at a "scrimmage" last night. The Sad Sacks are the Amvet fun organization.

Other officers who took their posts for the coming year were: Harold Lersch, vice commander; Norman Schmotzer, adjutant; Frank Schneider, finance officer; Miss Viola Baer, a Mansfield nurse, surgeon general; and Frank Newton, provost marshall.

Following installation, Kaser announced the following committee chairmen: Frank Heitz and Stanton Fox, ways and means; Don Kirkpatrick, welfare; annual Sad Sack picnic, Fox; entertainment committee for January, Charles Essick, Richard Underwood and John Lazen; for February, Robert Sneeringer, Richard L. Underwood and Kirkpatrick.

Plans were announced for a dinner at Happy Harry's on Jan. 14 which will honor the newly-installed officers and past officers. On Jan. 16, Sad Sacks are asked to report at the Amvet club where they will complete redecorating the basement to be used as a game room for club members.

Kaser reported that two families have been "adopted" for the Christmas season.

Meeting dates were set as the second Wednesday of each month.

200 Dance at First Community Party

Proof that Mansfielders will support a community dance was evidenced last night when more than 200 persons attended the first community recreation dance held in the city at Rebecca Grubaugh school.

Parents, friends and even high school students and their "dates" were among the crowd which packed the new gymnasium. The dance, held cabaret style, was planned by members of the Rebecca Grubaugh PTA in cooperation with the city recreation department and Local 159, American Federation of Musicians.

Today, Stanley Kamen, recreation director, praised the work of Wilbur Upson, P-TA president, and his dance committee, headed by Frank Fox, for "a job well done." Kamen said posters and circulars promoting the dance had reached every family in the neighborhood.

Dancing was held from 8 to 11 p. m., to the music of Paul Burgener and his orchestra.

"As the new schools are built and facilities are added, we hope to set up more dances of this kind for Mansfielders," Kamen said.

Bank Pays 2 Dividends

Farmers Directors OK $1.75 Per Share

For the first time in the history of the Farmers Savings and Trust company, stockholders Wednesday were voted two dividends totaling $1.75 per share, Paul M. Eliot, president, announced today.

The action was taken at the annual directors' meeting at which board members authorized payment of $1.25 per share, plus an extra dividend of 50 cents per share.

The meeting, which was conducted by Eliot, was followed by a dinner party at the Mansfield-Leland hotel for which employes of the bank were hosts.

Members of the board announced plans for distribution of the annual Christmas bonus to all bank employes.

During the program which followed the dinner, informal talks were given by Eliot, C. L. Van Derau, J. C. Gorman, H. B. Soulen, A. C. Rhoads and Roger A. Black, bank directors, who complimented the bank employes on "their friendly attitudes, considered so important to conducting a banking institution today."

Suggests Congressmen Keep List Of American War Dead Before Them

(Memo for the Displaced Persons' Congressional Committees)

A great deal of prejudice has been aroused about so many foreign names being admitted to the United States. It seems fitting that the committees should have before them, as a guide, a proper standard of American names. This list is respectfully submitted:

Joe P. Martinez: There is a U.S. medal bearing the name of Joe P. Martinez, and on it is inscribed. "For Conspicuous Gallantry above and beyond the Call of Duty in action with the enemy"

Unfortunately there is a tombstone bearing the same inscription.

Joe P. Martinez was born in Taos, New Mexico—but he died at the summit of Chickagof Pass, on Attu Island, in the Aleutians. Joe, an automatic rifleman, charged up the last 150 feet knowing it was barred by enemy fire from two sides — and tiers of snow trenches in front. They killed him—the Japs in the last trench.

He had carried everything in between. But because of Joe P. Martinez, the resistance of the enemy on Attu was broken ..The 7th Division and the 32 nd Infantry Regiment are very proud of Joe. Joe, in addition to offering evidence of his own bravery, is certainly an argument against anybody wanting to put Spanish names on a quota. We might be barring another Joe!

★

JOSEPH J. SADOWSKI: Joseph J. Sadowski's last address was not, as you might suspect, Tank Battalion, 4th Armored Division, United States Army... When Sergeant Sadowski's tank was hit by a German 88 gun—firing at 20 yards (!) he ordered his crew to dismount and take cover. After taking cover, Sergeant Sadowski discovered the bow gunner had been unable to leave the tank. Says his citation—over and above the call of duty. Although the tank was subjected to a withering hail of enemy small arms, bazooka, grenade and mortar fire, Sergeant Sadowski unhesitatingly returned to the tank. He was cut down by a stream of machine gun fire resulting in his death...

The gallant and noble sacrifice of his life in the aid of his comrade so inspired the tank crews that they pressed forward with great ferocity and completely destroyed the enemy forces in this town without further loss to themselves...

It appears we Americans are to be congratulated—that there were no restrictive immigration laws—when Sergeant Sadowski's forebears wanted to come to America.

★

FRANK J. PETRARCA: A name you might encounter in Rome—but this merican was born at Cleveland, Ohio. Despite warnings, and under machine gun fire. Frank Petrarca administered first aid to a wounded comrade until he died. Later, again against warnings, he advanced to assist another stricken soldier.

Within two yards of the wounded man, Petrarca received his death wound. "Even on the threshold of death, he continued to display valor and contempt for the foe; raising himself to his knees, this intrepid soldier shouted defiance at the enemy, made a last attempt to reach his wounded comrade and fell in glorious death"...

Seems a little silly to bar Italians from the land Columbus discovered—and for which Petrarca died, Mr. Congressmen.

★

So, Mr. Congressmen—isn't it a pretty poor footnote to our history that we are barring at Ellis Island—names we have already admitted to Arlington?

Father, Child Hit By Auto

A father and daughter were injured yesterday afternoon when struck by a car driven by Robert L. Banks, 119 North Walnut street at the intersection of South Walnut and Second street.

They were taken to Mansfield General hospital by Banks where they were treated and released.

The survey is statewide, Dr. Leacock said. He made a similar survey two years ago and now is covering the same ground to determine how much improvement has been made during the past two years.

His findings so far show considerable progress in the establishment of cancer-fighting facilities, he said. He expressed approval of Mansfield's cancer clinic which is now in its second year.

Reports of his survey will be published when the job is completed, Dr. Leacock said.

A bid of $259,609—more than $100,000 under the estimate—won for the A. J. Baltes, Inc., of Norwalk yesterday a contract for building the new section of State Route 95, from Newville to Perrysville.

That firm was awarded the contract by the State Highway department in Columbus as $3,000,000 worth of highway projects yesterday were awarded to contractors. In all, 13 projects were approved while two others were rejected as being 18 and 20 per cent over the unpublished estimates.

The state's estimate for State Route 95 was $366,000. It will be a bituminous road, located one-half mile north of the present road. The completion date is Oct. 31 next year.

Ohio Now Marking Route of Revolution's 'Mad Anthony'

DEFIANCE—(AP)—First of the blue and white highway markers designating the Ohio route of Gen. "Mad Anthony" Wayne and his western frontier army are being erected here.

The markers are the first bearing the Anthony Wayne parkway name to be placed along the military routes designated for memorial development by the Ohio legislature.

The first signs are being erected on Routes 24 and 111 near Defiance.

For two decades, Defiance and other communities along the trail of Anthony Wayne have worked to create the parkway. The project was given official state status with the bill enacted in 1947, authorizing appointment of an Anthony Wayne parkway board. The board was empowered to plan and supervise the development as a unified system of parks and historic shrines.

The 20 fort sites from Cincinnati to Toledo via Defiance and the many parks adjacent to the route will form the nucleous for the parkway development. State departments and local county and municipal agencies were authorized by the general assembly to cooperate with the parkway board.

Earl L. Reeb, state highway director, said 100 of the new blue and white markers are being installed along the 225-mile stretch from Cincinnati to Toledo.

The parkway bears the name of one of the nation's great military leaders. He earned the popular name of "Mad Anthony" in the Revolutionary war by his outstanding leadership and bravery. Washington appointed him to succeed General St. Clair in 1799, as commander of the western army with the rank of major general.

Seek Rail Betterment

COLUMBUS — (UP) — The State Public Utilities commission yesterday ordered all railroads operating in Ohio to show cause within 90 days why the commission should not order them to provide a clearance between tracks of 13 feet from center to center.

The commission also asked the railroads to show cause why they should not be required to reconstruct all yards that do not meet specifications within a six year period.

The order also asked the railroads to show why the curvature of tracks in yards should not exceed 12 degrees and 34 minutes.

Commission Chairman Harry M. Miller said there are a number of yards in Ohio with narrow clearances which have resulted in injury claims by workers.

Orchids Expensive? Grow Them at Home

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON — (UP) — A poor man can keep his lady in orchids if he has the patience to grow his own.

Not only that, if he treats a slightly used orchid like one bought to be treated, it can be used again—and again.

This interesting information comes from an interesting man—a shy little fellow named Linnasus T. Savage. He happens to be treasurer of the Washington unit of the American Orchid society. He also, by chance, is assistant secretary of the American Security & Trust company. A bank.

Our man put some kind of mysterious pressure on his betters and the society set a couple of records. (1). It held probably the first national orchid convention and exhibit in the lobby of a great bank. (2). It kept a bank open on Sunday. Not for deposits, but for a meeting of the orchid board of directors in the plushy board room.

The exhibit was all over the place. Among the potted palms, which are standard props in this bank's lobby. And in front of the paying and receiving windows. Rare orchids were flown to America for the first time from the Netherlands. Some not so rare were grown by Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, President Truman's doctor.

Savage, who of course is an orchid man in addition to being a banker, said that all a man needs to grow his own is a kitchenette with sun coming in it and a $5 bill to buy his first plant. Plus a dime.

The dime is for a flower pot you can get in any 5 & 10. One which measures about six inches across the top.

After that, you are in the orchid business—on a family scale. You put some good earth in the pot and break up some glass or old crockery and put it in the dirt. That gives the plant a chance to get a breath of air. A couple of chunks of charcoal also help.

Other equipment includes a pair of shears, used to trim the leaves and a "kitchen knife" or stick to stir up the dirt once in a while. Also a little wire or plain string to hold the plant upright.

It takes about six months to produce a bloom and for a $5 initial cost on a plant you can expect two blooms.

"You can get a lot of mileage out of an orchid, too, if you know how," said banker-orchidman savage.

Club Gives Auto Tips

Cold Weather Hints Issued

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Automobile club officials today offered the following suggestions to help motorists during the predicted cold wave:

1. In starting the motor after dark, make sure lights, radio and heater are off before stepping on the starter.

2. If auto is equipped with hand choke, stall motor with it when putting away vehicle for the night. This will provide a reservoir of raw gas in the cylinders for morning starting.

3. If the auto is equipped with an automatic choke, the same effect can be accomplished by accelerating the motor and then quickly turning off the ignition.

4. Never start auto on a cold morning without first depressing the clutch.

5. Never start in low gear when streets are slippery. Use second or high gear and feed just enough gas to keep from stalling.

Quiz Suspect In Strangling

CLEVELAND — (UP) — A 46-year-old brewery worker today was being questioned by suburban Shaker Heights police in connection with the murder of Mrs. Helen Takacy.

Police said the man, arrested on a "hunch" by detectives, told investigators he could not remember his whereabouts the night of Nov. 16 when Mrs. Takacy was strangled with a necktie in a field near her home.

The suspect, police said, was "not too bright," had once admitted degenerate practices and had been questioned in 1940 in connection with a similar murder.

TRIAL POSTPONED

HAMILTON —(AP)— The second degree murder trial of Lawrence E. Lowe, 29, charged in the drowning last July 5 of Miss Vera Ingram, was postponed yesterday because of the illness of a woman juror.

COMMON PLEAS COURT

Albert White vs. Talmadge H. Lewis. Parties say $10,000 suit has been settled and plaintiff dismisses his petition, at defendant's costs. White had claimed he suffered injuries when a car in which he was a passenger struck Lewis' car parked on West Fourth street on the night of May 16, 1946. White contended the night was dark and cloudy and Lewis did not have any lights on his parked car. In answer, Lewis said his car had caught fire and was parked there because of emergency after the fire department extinguished the blaze.

John D. Russell, Shelby, vs. Cecil L. and Hazel M. Harruff, Shelby. By agreement of parties case marked settled and dismissed at defendant's costs. Plaintiff sued for $340, for his work, according to his petition, of appraising a Shelby lot and house for the defendants, and assisting in procuring a purchaser. In separate answers, the defendants denied the allegations.

Trustees of Chruch of God, Mansfield, Ray Parks, W. M. McCoy and Claude Brown, given authority to borrow $2,500 on church property for improvement purposes.

The Mount Union Bank, Alliance, vs. William J. Walker, et al. Court rules that plaintiff recover $3,657 due it from defendants, on a promissory note.

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK—(UP)—The oddsmakers reframed sporting poetry today to make it read: It's not how many you won or lost but whom you played.

For California's Golden Bears and Clemson's tearing Tigers, both of whom finished among the nation's undefeated and untied titans, were underdogs as they headed toward New Year's bowl battles.

And the men who post the prices figured that the North Carolina-Oklahoma tilt without a perfect record in the house—would be the game of the day come Jan. 1.

ROSE BOWL

Northwestern 6½ over California—That's even smaller odds than expected, however, for the Pasadena clambake. USC brought 'em skidding by fighting Notre Dame to a draw. It sounds even when you consider that California beat USC, which tied Notre Dame, which beat Northwestern. But that problem of schedule severity raises its head again, and Northwestern certainly had a tougher row to hoe than the Golden Bears.

SUGAR BOWL

North Carolina 1½ over Oklahoma—The Sooners lost their opener and then came like Whirlaway in the stretch The Tarheels were tied once. Both beat Texas, the only common opponent. But again it's a shade for a team with a tougher schedule when they hook up at New Orleans.

COTTON BOWL

Southern Methodist 6½ over Oregon—Oregon's record seems the most impressive, with only one loss against SMU's loss and tie. Then, too, SMU barely skinned through three games. But again it's that tougher schedule which apparently makes the Mustangs the choice at Dallas.

ORANGE BOWL

Georgia 7 over Texas—on first glance this appears to be an underlay. Georgia dropped only one game, a close 21-14 decision to North Carolina, which whipped Texas rather handily, 34 to 7. The Longhorns also were bounced by Oklahoma and SMU which makes them appear like a fine steak dinner for the Miami muscle dance

'GATOR BOWL

Missouri 7 over Clemson—See how much respect that undefeated and untied business means? The men of Missouri were bounced twice this season but also clawed such as SMU and Navy. Clemson apparently lost much prestige for this Jan. 1 tussle at Jacksonville, Fla., when it barely squeezed past much-battered Auburn, 7 to 6, in its season finale.

DELTA BOWL

William and Mary 6 over Oklahoma A. & M.—It's at Memphis and there's little to choose. W. & M. dropped two and tied two. The Aggies lost three Again the stronger schedule gets the nod.

DIXIE BOWL

Boylar 6 over Wake Forest — The Battle of Birmingham pits a pair of thrice-beaten rivals. It's a question of whether Baylor's wins over Arkansas and TCU outweigh the Deacons' triumphs over William and Mary and Duke.

HARBOR BOWL

Nevada 3 over Villanova—Nevada lost to Santa Clara but beat everybody else handily. By "everybody else" you mean such titans as San Jose State, San Francisco, North Texas State, Fresno State and Wichita. Villanova lost two and tied Kentucky. A more severe schedule brings down odds which probably should be larger.

Hemsley Succeeds Larry Gilbert As Nashville Pilot

MINNEAPOLIS— (UP) —Larry Gilbert, dean of Southern Association managers, announced his retirement as pilot of the Nashville, Tenn., baseball club today after 25 years of service and Rollie Hemsley, veteran major league catcher, was named to succeed him.

Hemsley was a star catcher with the St. Louis Browns, Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees.

In another Southern association managerial change, Hugh Luby, second baseman for the San Francisco Seals, was named field pilot of the New Orleans Pelicans. Luby played major league ball briefly with the New York Giants.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

ST LOUIS—Lee Sala, 161, Donora, Pa. knocked out Jimmy Hayden, 160¼, New York.

OAKLAND, Calif.—Rudy Cruz, 137½ Los Angeles and Jesse Flores, 138 Stockton, Calif., drew, 10.

Joe Miller Honored on 'Official' Team

Ferguson, Carver and Jenkins Mentioned

Mansfield's Joe Miller received further honors from his football ability today when he was named to the second defensive team in Associated Press All-Ohio selections.

Miller was one of four Senior high gridders who were included in the long list. Three boys End Kenny Carver, Quarterback Paul Ferguson, and Fullback A. C. Jenkins were given honorable mention.

Area men were also prominent in the selections. Bucyrus placed its twin halfbacks Dick and Bill Kibler and Center Bill Huggins, Crestline had a surprise choice in Tackle Vic Christini, and Loudonville placed Fullback Bob Porter. All were given honorable mention.

GLEASON IGNORED

Probably the biggest disappointment was the failure of Bellville's high scoring halfback, Jim Gleason, to make the long list.

Dick Shuff of Mt. Vernon was named to the second offensive team.

The winners of the coveted berths were weeded from among the state's 20,000 players aand 575 teams through ballots sent to all the coaches, the state's Associated Press member sports editors, and about 100 officials.

Since 1938 the Associated Press selections have been recognized as official by the Ohio High School Coaches' association.

Although the honorary teams are dotted with talent from the schools which finished among the top 10 during the campaign, several of the boys came from squads which did not enjoy outstanding success.

COLCERI CAPTAIN

John Colceri, Canton McKinley's game-breaking back who was forced to sit out the losing game with Massillon because of a broken collar bone, was the fanciest choice of the voters and he was awarded the team captaincy. The 180-pound speed king contributed 21 touchdowns to the McKinley cause in nine games, against the roughest kind of opposition.

The center of the line has everything, with Chuck Weeks of Columbus West and Nick O'Brovac of Canton McKinley at the tackles; Les Allen of Toledo Scott and Don Thomas of Springfield at guard, and Bob Kane of Newark at center. That wall averages about 185, and has speed to burn.

Over on the defensive side are some offensive stars in their own right, but who shone when it came to batting down the opposing runners. Despite the fact they contributed 216 points on offense, Backs Bernie Skyara of Struthers (82), Jim Bailey of Hamilton (108), Al Brown of Massillon (68) and John Hlay of Niles (58), didn't let many runners get by them or many passes be completed in their territory.

Here they are—the 1000-to-1 shots—the boys you'll be reading of in the collegiate headlines in a couple of years:

Rumor Factory Hits Robinson

NEW YORK — (INS) — Welterweight Champion Ray Robinson couldn't be reached for comment today, but unconfirmed reports insisted there were certain confusing aspects surrounding the injury which postponed tonight's 10-rounder with Steve Belloise.

If the gossips were to be believed, in fact, several regrettable mistakes must have crept into the account of events that led up to the champion's misfortune. Said rumor, slyly:

Robinson's ribs were damaged, all right, but not in the training ring, they were cracked in an alleged extra-mural, unsanctioned brawl with a sparring partner.

It was claimed the sparring partner was offered a wage-cut, and rejoined by offering a right to the brisket The innuendoes even gave the latter an identity—Tiger Wade, Harlem middleweight.

Midwest Tops Grantland Rice All-America 11

NEW LORK — Four midwesterners, including two players from Notre Dame, make the 1948 Look All-America selected by Grantland Rice and Football Writers Association of America, according to the issue of Look released today.

Emil Sitko, back, and Leon Hart, tackle, are the Notre Dame players who are honored. Dick Rifenburg, Michigan end, and Leo Nomellini, Minnesota tackle, also are on the team.

Outstanding players from every section of the country stud the team. Doak Walker of SMU, Jack Jensen of California and John Rauch of Georgia round out the backfield In the line, Chuck Bednarik, standout center from Pennsylvania, is flanked by the two finest guards in the country, Joe Henry of Army and Bill Healy of Georgia Tech. Art Weiner of North Carolina wins the end position opposite Rifenburg.

Shiloh Drops Third

SHILOH—The Shiloh high cagers lost their third game of the season Tuesday night, when they were defeated 42-11 by North Fairfield.

5 City 'A' Loop Keglers Gain Honor Roll Berths

Five City A league bowlers won places on the mythical honor roll last night while rolling on the Colony alleys Setting the pace for the quintet was Hank Michaels of Jerry's 36 Bar, who fired 224-204-213—641.

Cliff Forsythe was runnerup with a 190-226-213—629 mark and was followed by H Selby, 618. Bob Bieri, 608, and Fritz Vogel, 603. Two men who missed the charmed circle—William Huck and John Perrine—took single game honors with scores of 246. Perrine's good score netted him only a 573 total as it followed games of 161 and 166, while Huck sandwiched his between a 162 and 159 for a 567 total.

Lloyd Pugh did not miss the honor roll by far with a 587 score while Orlie Grable had 585 and Oscar Tracht, 562.

Bissman's, although not boasting a single leading scorer, won two of three games from Waldman's Meats to hold its two game league lead over Mitsch's Corner store.

★

One of the best exhibitions of the night was a brilliant 257 single game and 596 series turned in by Peg Shoup in the Richland Ladies league. Peg's single game which came between a 156 and 183 easily bettered anything turned in by men on either set of lanes

Hers was the only 500 series in the loop.

★

Three Westinghouse leagues were in action.

Westinghouse A leaguers missed the coveted 600 mark as R. Workman was top man with 587. A. Humphrey had 585; E. Myers, 552; T. Santoro, 533, and E. Lucas, 539.

B leaguers rolled at Richland Recreation with a 578 by W. Warren in the van. F. Beal's 536 and N. Wilhelm's 538 were the only other series over 500

The E loop fired at Colony and had one good score—a 579 by E. Packer. L Wiley posted a 492, F. Erwin, 486, and K Roberts, 485.

★

Leading the way in the Victory loop was Elmer Myers who pounded out 179

Three teams are tied for top spot in the Victory league. Tony's Canfield and Ideal Panel who had shared the lead, dropped two of three games while Home Interiors moved up along side them with a two-out-of-three victory.

Elmer Myers of Home Interior was the individual league leader with a 179-182-204—565 score. V. Ruhl had 559, Russell Shade, 538 and Earl Turner, 554.

★

P. Zartman led the Isaly's circuit with 461 while Sis DeWeese topped the Dominion Women with 474. Bob Tipul's 585 was tops among St. Peter's Alumni.

Shires Posts Bond On Slaying Charge

DALLAS, Tex.—(INS)—Art (The Great) Shires, 42, was free on $5 000 bond today, charged with the murder of W. H. (Hi) Erwin, 56, former pro ball player and umpire in the Texas league

Shires, big league ball player of the early Thirties and one-time member of the Columbus Red Birds, posted his bond yesterday

Shires, now owner of a Dallas cafe, admitted fighting with Erwin, but said the other former ball player had hit him first with a telephone receiver and had bitten him.

'B' Cage Tilts Never In Doubt

Ohio State Beverage and Ohio Sport Center won easily in two Class B games played last night on the Friendly House court. Beverage beat Busy Bee Lunch, 31-22, while Sport Center doubled the score on North End Shine, 30-15.

Lindsay of Ohio State Beverage and Fugue of Busy Bee Lunch shared scoring honors with 11 points each.

Miami Open Gets Under Way Today

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — The first major tournament of the winter circuit, the $10,000 Miami Open, begins today at Miami Springs golf course, and Sammy Snead, Lloyd Mangrum and Jimmy Demaret are hailed as the men to beat

Snead, three times winner of the gruelling 72-hole tournament, carries a slight edge as favorite and is ranked a three to one choice among the bet makers.

Materials and Corner Store 'B' Loop Threats

Frankie Mitsch's Corner Store and Home Materials stood atop the Class B National basketball league today with one victory each.

Mitsch's, composed of former Madison high school players, looked to be the class of the circuit as it romped over Four Square Gospel, 43-11, last night at Senior high gym. Home Materials held a bye after winning last week.

OTHER CONTESTS

In other games last night, Au Construction walloped the Independents, 40-19, and AVC edged the Salesmen, 40-36 The victors of the latter two games both had lost last week The Independent-Au game was a close contest for three quarters but the losers blew up in the final period to be outscored, 18 to 4

Keen of the Salesmen was high point man of the night with 19 counters. Bernie Weaver of Au's tossed in 16 while Kerr of AVC and Eldon Pritchard of Mitsch's hit for 15

Bullfight Prohibited As Bowl Exhibition

JACKSONVILLE, Fla — (AP) — There'll be no bullfight in the Gator bowl Saturday.

After six local organizations protested on the grounds that the bull might get hurt, Mayor C. Frank Whitehead announced the city would not permit the scheduled exhibition.

Chicago Fans Wild About Grid Clash

CHICAGO — (AP) — Not since Red Grange turned pro in his heyday of the roaring 20's has professional football in Chicago reached such frenzied heights as it has for the Cardinals-Bears battle in wrigley Field Sunday.

The cross-town rivals, each with 10 wins and one defeat for the campaign, tangle for the western division crown of the National Football league.

All seats have been sold for nearly two months and standing room tickets also have gone, assuring a crowd of more than 51,000.

150,000 WANT IN

Bears' officials say about 150,000 persons are clamoring for seats for the game, which they tab the greatest box office natural in the history of pro football.

The Cardinals, who broke into greatness in the past two years, defeated the Bears twice last season enroute to winning the National crown. The same club is back this time with Charlie Trippi, Elmer Angsman, Pat Harder, Paul Christman and others making it the most feared offensive unit in the league

The Bears, an overwhelming defensive team with plenty of punch, too, have added some new attractions—such as Johnny Lujack, Bobby Layne and Linemon George Connor. The Northsiders are the only club to defeat the Cards this season.

The Bears' only defeat was to the Eagles in the rain at Philodelphia 12-7. a victory that fused the easterners' march to their divisional honors.

Currently, the Bears are slight favorites.

The rivalry between the two clubs started in 1920 and is the oldest in pro football. The Bears hold an edge with 36 wins, 12 losses with six games being tied. During this span the Bears have uncorked 950 points to the Cards' 528.

Trade Winds Blowing

Initial Deal Made, Others Expected

By JOE REICHLER

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn — (AP)—News-starved baseball fans are hereby warned to get ready for some real action. The way things have been shaping up, at least a couple of "name" trades are almost certain to be announced within a day or two.

Now that the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates have started the horsehide rolling with the Gustine-McCullough swap, the general feeling is the minor league convention will really start humming with the big league deals.

CHISOX WANT THREE

The Chicago White Sox busiest traders of the off-season thus far make no bones about their hope of luring Third Baseman Bob Dillinger from the St Louis Browns First Baseman Eddie Robinson from Cleveland and Pitcher Allie Reynolds from the New York Yankees

The New York Giants want Pitcher Johnny Vander Meer from Cincinnati They have offered Second Baseman Billy Rigney The deal is hot" right now Ironically, the Reds tried awfully hard to swap Vandy to the Giants for Rigney last year, but were turned down

. The National league champion Boston Braves have made overtures to Pittsburgh for Outfielders Ralph Kiner and Wally Westlake, but have not gotten very far Brooklyn is still hot after First Baseman Eddie Waitkus of the Cubs, but so are the Giants The St Louis Cardinals want a guarantee that Walker Cooper's knee operation is a success before giving up Pitchers Red Munger or Murry Dickson to the Cubs for the big catcher

TROUT FOR BERARDINO

Detroit is dangling Pitcher Dizzy Trout before Bill Veeck's eyes in an effort to land Second Baseman Johnny Berardino The Yankees desire to make changes So do the Philadelphia Phillies Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators

The Giants were all set to make an announcement yesterday but changed their minds at the last minute It is no secret they were after Catcher Clyde McCullough and southpaw Pitcher Cliff Chambers of the Cubs However when the two were traded to the Pirates for Third Baseman Frank Gustine and rookie righthander Calvin McLish, it left the Giants in the cold.

The Cubs recently exchanged outfielders with the Phils, giving up Bill Nicholson for Harry Walker

The White Sox have parted with veteran Pitchers Joe Haynes and Frank Papish (to the Indians), Outfielder Taft Wright (Athletics) and Catcher Aaron Robinson (Tigers) They have acquired Catcher Joe Tipton and Pitchers Bob Kuzava and Ernie Groth (Indians) and Pitcher Billy Pierce (Tigers)

Eagles Travel To Mt. Union Floor Tonight

ASHLAND—Fresh from their 54 to 46 victory over the Case Rough Riders in the Cleveland Arena last night, the Ashland Eagles travel to Alliance tonight for their only 1948-49 cage meeting with the Mt Union Rough Riders

The Eagles will meet the same Rider quintet that defeated them last season 45 or 34 The Riders will board a team well over six foot two inches in average height as to about six-one for the Eagles

Most of Ashland's win hopes will be based on a repeat performance of the Cooper brothers, Gary and Dick Together the two former Ashland high school players netted 30 of Ashland's 54 counters against Case.

Ashland's starting line-up will probably be the same that started against Case At the forwards will be Gary Cooper and Dick Denbow Dave Grubb, six foot five inch sophomore will hold down the center slot and Dick Cooper and Wes Peterman will be at the guards

Ashland opens up its home season next week They play host to the Quakers of Wilmington on Tuesday and welcome the Kenyon Lords on Thursday

3 Topics Confront Big Nine Officials at Friday Parley

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Big Nine opens its regular winter meeting tomorrow with three items on the agenda which could make Western Conference history

Major topics which faced the faculty representatives athletic directors and football coaches were

1 Decision by the faculty representatives whether to admit Michigan State as the tenth member of the league

2 Approval, amendment or rejection by the faculty representatives of a new plan to tighten restrictions on scholarships held by athletes

3 Preparation by athletic directors and football coaches of the grid schedules for 1950, 1951, and 1952

It appeared that the major point affecting Michigan State's bid was whether the faculty representatives have become convinced the league could be stronger as a 10 team loop again

There was a split among the representatives on the scholarship rule. After nearly two years of discussion the amendment finally was approved by the faculty representatives last fall.

Not all of the faculty boards approved the amendment and so it was thrown back to conference action again Approval by a majority of the faculty representatives at this meeting would make the rule effective

The regulation was opposed by schools which had no scholarships, and also by schools which have athletes who hold scholastic scholarships more remunerative than would be permitted by the new regulation
